

2.4 Basic Exchange Access Service

2.4.1 Basic Exchange Access Service – Description

- A. Basic Exchange Access Service provides the Customer with a single, voice-grade communications channel connecting the Customer's premises and the Company's designated Carrier's, central office. Basic Exchange Access Service provides the Customer with access to the switched network for purposes of placing and receiving calls.

Basic Exchange Access Service Customers are entitled to a vice-grade communications channel. Basic Exchange Access Customers are not guaranteed any other facility requirement – e.g., Customers are not guaranteed a communications path capable of supporting data transmissions.

- B. Basic Exchange Access Service charges are based on the exchange in which Customer is located:
